ISLAM AND IMMIGRATION:

Do they get it?

Dear Fellow Citizen,

You already know that immigration impacts national security. So I'm writing to tell you why our presidential candidates must speak out about Islam and immigration.

And I want to empower you to influence the election process on this important issue. (Read on.)

You've probably heard each of the 2008 presidential candidates saying something about Islam, or at least about "terrorism." And you've seen some of them deal with the problem of Islam directly, while others dance around the issue.

No matter what they say, they all know the American people are concerned about violent, "radical" Jihad.

HIJRA

But violence is only one aspect of Jihad. I want to talk about a lesser-known concept called hijra - an Arabic word meaning "migration." The first hijra was Mohammed's move from Mecca to Medina (which he promptly conquered for Islam).

In all the centuries that followed, Muslims have used the doctrine of migration as a Jihad tactic to overwhelm and conquer non-Muslim lands - maybe in a "blitz," maybe over decades.

Islamic leaders have a long view of history. They know that any society apathetic toward Islam can eventually be assimilated. It's happening in England right now. According to a report in the London 'Daily Telegraph' last month, "Mohammed" was the #2 boys' name of choice in 2007. It will be #1 in 2008!

You and I know that the United States has had a very generous immigration policy for many years. The critics of immigration talk a lot about economics, but what the pundits and bureaucrats don't realize is that Islam doesn't only want the economy - it wants everything. And Islam can easily exploit our immigration laws for its own practice of "migration."

This isn't just about a few terrorists sneaking across the Mexican border. It's about American society being overrun by people who may be perfectly legal, peaceful immigrants - but who revere Sharia law above the Constitution. This is why I've been collecting signed petitions to promote the "Charter of Muslim Understanding" - because too many Muslim leaders in the U.S. reject American law in favor of Islamic law.

I believe you recognize the seriousness of this problem. But do the presidential candidates get it? I looked at news reports and the candidates' websites to find out what they're saying about Islam. Here are a few quotes:

- Mike Huckabee: "The Bush administration has never adequately explained the theology and ideology behind Islamic terrorism or convinced us of its ruthless fanaticism." "This isn't an Islamic problem. This is a jihadist problem. This is an Islamo-fascism problem."
- Mitt Romney: "Jihadism - violent, radical, fundamental Islam - is this century's nightmare." And illegal immigration "compromise[s] our national security."
- Hillary Clinton: [Never mentions terrorism, Islam or Muslims when talking about immigration. Spends almost no web space on either terrorism or national security.]
- Barack Obama: "Homeland Security" mainly involves protecting our nuke plants and water supply from unnamed threats. His best quote on terrorism is about "violent extremists who are a small minority of the world's 1.3 billion Muslims.... They distort Islam."
- Rudy Giuliani: "Real immigration reform must put security first because border security and homeland security are inseparable in the Terrorists' War on Us."

That's not much to go on, but do you begin to see the pattern? Several candidates are unwilling even to speak plainly about something as obvious as "Islamic" terrorism. The others are more bold, but here's the common factor: no one really understands that jihad and hijra are central doctrines of Islam (and that both can be effective even without violence).

By the way, McCain, Paul, and Thompson all make some strong comments about "radical" Islam, but they, too, don't appear to realize that the problem isn't "radicalism": it's the fundamental, orthodox, normal theology of Islam itself.

Furthermore, none of the candidates understands that "migration" is used by Muslims to establish Islamic rule wherever they go.

A CLEARER CALL

You know that Islam has been a challenge to Western civilization for 1,400 years and is now knocking on our "open door" right here in the United States. That's why it's vital that our presidential candidates talk about Islam directly and wisely - right now and in future elections. Each one should have a plan of how to confront Islam for generations to come.

At the moment, none of them have the clarity of former House Speaker Newt Gingrich, who does get it. None of them are willing to condemn Islam outright, like President Reagan did when he labeled the Communist U.S.S.R. an "evil empire" and called on President Gorbachev to tear down the Berlin Wall.

Yes, many Muslims are peaceful (like many average Russians were). But our leaders must comprehend and publicly affirm that Islam is NOT a peaceful religion. It is an oppressive ideology intent on world conquest by any means, and it has already enslaved billions. We expect our leaders to understand history and provide long-term solutions that go beyond their terms of office, and that go beyond half-way catchphrases like "radical violent Jihad" or "terrorism."

To help make the challenge of Islam a permanent part of the discussion about national security, immigration, and the American way of life, I plan to publish the first-ever Truth For Muslims Presidential Voter Guide. The guide will summarize what the candidates understand about Islam and explain how public policy must deal with the challenge it poses.

TRUTH FOR MUSLIMS, TRUTH FOR AMERICANS

I expect the Voter Guide to impact a limited number of voters this election cycle, but this is only the beginning of a long-term program to inform voters about our presidential candidates. It will be repeated, and grow, every four years. And I'm counting on you to help me.

Truth For Muslims responds to Islam with biblically-based solutions in a number of ways. As the name "Truth For Muslims" implies, I want to tell Muslims the Truth of Christ and help them escape from Islam, a dark and dangerous ideology.

This is also why I created the "Children of Terrorism Rescue Fund" - to offer relief to Muslim families in the U.S. who convert to Christianity and are threatened by their community (or family) for leaving Islam.

But another way to respond to Islam in America is to tell voters the truth about Islam. Informed voters can insist that candidates talk about the danger Islam presents to freedom.

You know candidates decide what issues to focus on by observing what the American people feel is important. Therefore, to change the political climate, you and I need to change the cultural outlook on the issue. That's a big project. It won't happen overnight. But it can happen.

Here's the goal: presidential candidates who take the time to consult informed advisors and develop sound policies for combating Islam in America. Our leaders can't solve the problem by themselves, but they DO have a duty to lead. In order to lead, they have to GET IT.

I need your help to make this impact.

I plan to publish the Truth For Muslims Presidential Voter Guide this September, just in time for the November election. I need your gift of $20, $30, $50 or more right now so I can finish, publish, and distribute the research.

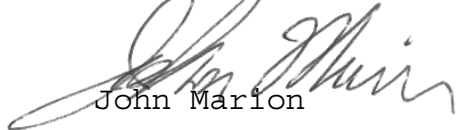

Your contribution will also enable me to send you the Truth Messenger newsletter four times a year. I'll devote most of the Fall newsletter to Islam and the presidential race. And of course, I'll send you the Voter Guide when it's ready.

Your help now is a first step in the long process of shaping the public debate about Islam. As Newt Gingrich says,

I am really, deeply worried. We have two grandchildren who are 6 and 8, and I believe they are in greater danger of dying from enemy activities than we were in the Cold War.

What you and I do now in our generation to confront this challenge will shape the destiny of future generations. That's why I'm counting on you to help right now.

Yours for the Truth,

John Marion

P.S. Please respond soon with your contribution, so I can send your immigration and Islam Presidential Voter Guide as well as the next Truth Messenger newsletter!
